Contest For Trustee Job Warming up

With the time for filing nomination papers for city trustee drawing to a close the race for honors is taking shape with an increased show of interest. Six candidates are now lined up for the four positions to be filled, with a probability that one or two more will enter the race before nominations close next Tuesday.

City Clerk Dietz reports the following nominations on file up to Thursday afternoon:

Trustee for four years:
E. E. Bacon (incumbent), E. H. Porter (incumbent), Joseph Belohlavek.

E. E. Bacon (incumbent), 240 East Alegria.

E. H. Porter (incumbent), 145 East Alegria.

Joseph Belohlavek, 667 West Alegria.

Frank Hildebrandt, 428 West Mariposa.

Trustee for two years:

N. W. Tarr (incumbent), 274 West Montecito.

W. D. Richards, 502 Sturtevant Road.

Registration for the city election closed Saturday night. Frank Barbour, registration deputy, put in a busy day and added a considerable number to the list for Sierra Madre, but the total is still believed to be far short of what it should be, due to the failure of many voters to heed the warnings and enroll promptly.

J. O. Smith Is All Alone in School Race

Only those voters who registered between Jan. 1 and Feb. 25, 1926, are eligible to vote at elections of school trustees on March 26, according to the latest ruling received by the local school board from County Superintendent Mark Keppel. As a result only a small proportion of the voters of Sierra Madre will be permitted to cast their ballots.

Trustee J. O. Smith is the only candidate whose name was filed in time to be printed on the official ballot. In spite of the absence of a contest the ruling is a disappointment to those who like to see a large vote at school elections and who hoped Mr. Smith would be returned to office by an emphatic vote.

By some quirk of legal interpretation, it is held that in districts where school bonds are submitted, anyone can vote who was registered during 1924-25. This is in harmony with the old practice of using the old register for all spring elections.

The letter from the county superintendent follows:

Attorney General Webb has ruled, and County Counsel Bishop has concurred in his ruling, that only those electors who have registered in 1926 prior to Feb. 25, 1926, may vote for school trustees and high school board members at the school election on March 26, 1926.

Please bring this letter to the attention of the governing boards of your respective school districts and acquaint the officers of your election boards with the rulings of their legal advisers; and tell the election officers to permit only those electors to vote for school trustees and for high school board members who have registered in 1926 prior to Feb. 25, 1926.

Any other person who insists upon voting must be treated as a challenged elector and must not be allowed to vote for school trustee or for high school board members unless such challenged elector swears in his vote in harmony with the provisions of Section 1600 of the Political Code of the State of California.

It may be that in some districts school bond elections are to be held on March 26, 1926. In such case, any elector who was registered in 1924-1925 or who has registered in 1926 prior to Feb. 25, 1926, may vote for or against the school bonds.

Co. Supt. of Schools.

Observations (By G. B. M.)

PICTURE ADVERTISING OF THE BEST KIND

A. J. Dewey, artist, and Sierra Madre are going to get some good advertising around Chicago. Mr. Dewey gets something more substantial as well. He has just sold a large painting to Mr. L. B. Kuppenheimer, Chicago manufacturer, who will present it to a school near his home.

The painting has been much admired by Mr. Dewey's friends, many of whom recognized the scene on Churchill road. It was exhibited at the Vista del Arroyo and Huntington Hotel galleries, Mr. Kuppenheimer seeing it at the latter. On the frame of the picture has been placed a silver plate reading:

CHURCHILL ROAD
SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA
BY

ALFRED JAMES DEWEY
PRESENTED TO THE NORTH-SHORE DAY SCHOOL BY

L. B. KUPPENHEIMER

Just after selling this picture to Mr. Kuppenheimer Mr. Dewey lost the sale of another picture by an odd chain of circumstances. Quite awhile ago he allowed a Chicago publisher to make a color reproduction of one of his pictures. The original was later returned to him. Just a few days ago a representative of the publisher hunted him up and told of having traced him across the country by way of Texas, and finally locating him at his Sierra Madre home. The man said the firm now wanted to buy the original picture, apparently being willing to pay a good price for it. Mr. Dewey then remembered that the picture had been returned to him somewhat marred, and as he had not thought much of it anyway he had made use of the canvas by painting another over it!

BELIEVE IN SIGNS
IF YOU WANT TO

Speaking of advertising and paint brings to mind a story R. A. Pratt tells on himself, dating back to the days when he had charge of eastern territory for the Coca Cola company.

A Greek purveyor of soda water and ice cream in Newark, N. J., was opening up a showy establishment in a building which had been a residence, with a business front added. He applied to Mr. Pratt to have the Coca Cola advertising department paint a new sign for him. The matter was put through the usual channels, duly approved, and Mr. Pratt assigned the job to some sign painters in the regular way.

The sign painters went over to Newark and before tackling the job got hold of something stronger than soda to quench their thirst. They became so pepped up that they decided to paint not only the sign which had been ordered, but to cover the whole house. Walls and roof were splashed with red and green paint, and Coca Cola signs were stuck on every place where there was room for them. The architecture was bad enough and the new paint made a fine topic for a screaming editorial attack by the Newark Evening News.

The Greek proprietor happened to be absent while the painters were at work, and when he saw what he had been given in place of the nice gold sign he had expected there was a Hellenic invasion of Mr. Pratt's office. For some time thereafter Mr. Pratt's principal business was dodging that wrathful Greek. And after all the years Mr. Pratt was reminded of the affair recently by a magazine sent him by an eastern friend with a picture of that building set forth as a "horrible example" of offensive advertising.

HOW SPELLING DOES AFFECT SOME PEOPLE

From a nearby institution of higher learning comes a press bulletin telling of a clinic devoted to study of various factors which "effect" the child. The same bulletin tells of a new policy which will prevent students being advanced beyond sophomore standing unless they can meet certain spelling tests. Here's hoping some improvement in their spelling will be effected.

Great Crowd Comes Daily To Wistaria

Although it seemed as if everybody in Southern California must have seen the Wistaria vine at the Fennel home by last Sunday night, the crowds continue to come day by day.

All records for attendance and for receipts from sales of novelties and refreshments were put in the discard long since. Also the ladies say that new standards of harmony and smooth running organization have been established which has tended to lighten the load of the strenuous days.

The delicious luncheons served at noon, and the other refreshments served during the day have caused the vine to be the scene of many social affairs during the past two weeks. Local and out of town people alike have taken advantage of the opportunity to entertain friends there under unusual and delightful conditions. Group meetings of various kinds have been held there.

More high priced cars have visited Sierra Madre during the Wistaria Fete than in any similar period in the history of the city. This has been due largely to the number of tourists who have come from the various resort hotels.

It is too early to make any estimates of the total receipts or net proceeds from the affair. But the prospect makes the ladies smile in spite of weariness, and there is added satisfaction in the thought of the large proportion of the money which is paid by out of town visitors.

Varied Bill Is Offered at Wistaria

Racing along at a dizzy rate of speed, with Monte Blue in the lead, "Red Hot Tires," a Warner Bros. classic of the screen opens tonight at the Wistaria. This picture of the Gregory Rogers novel is one of the most entertaining of the comedies recently screened, and has thrills, laughs, and romance gaily shaken together. Patsy Ruth Miller makes a charming little heroine, even when she dons a pair of size 12 heavy shoes and clomps along through a haunted house. "Red Hot Tires" is wholesomely exciting fun.

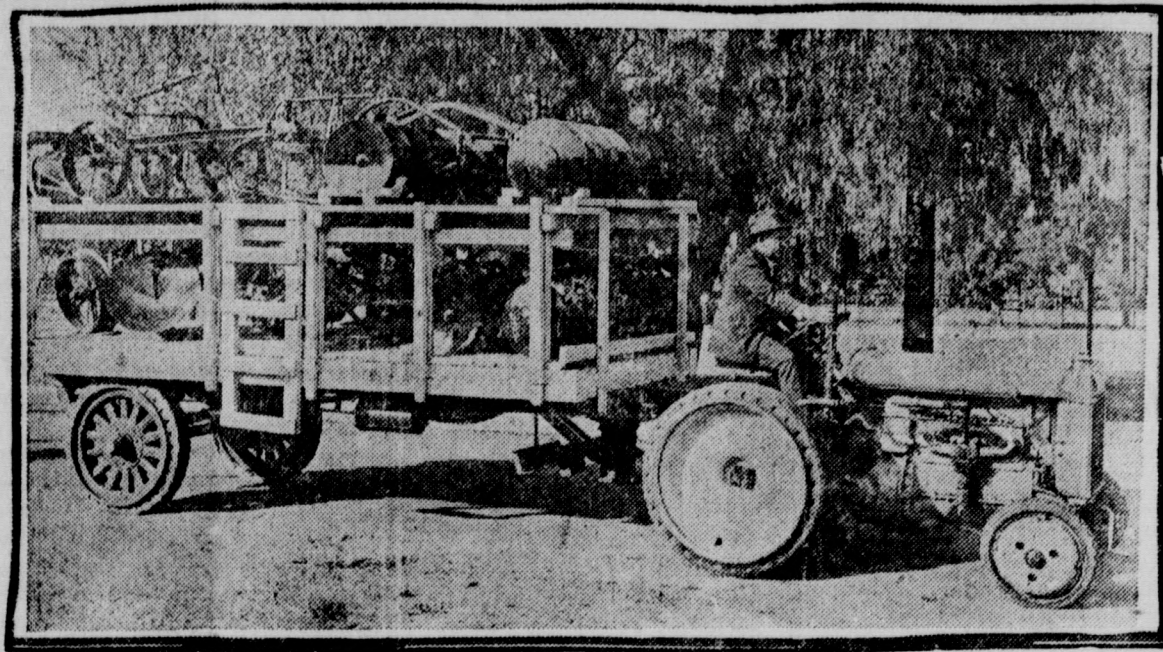

Compromise
"Compromise," the story of a lovely woman's heart struggle against compromising her ideals and accepting the ugliness of the world along with its beauty, is a Warner Bros. classic of the screen starring Irene Rich and coming Sunday and Monday.

The Great Love
Viola Dana and Robert Agnew, featured players in "The Great Love," the latest novelty picture made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and which comes Tuesday and Wednesday, were never seen to better advantage than in "The Great Love," the story of a triangular love, in which an elephant plays the role of an angel. Miss Dana is one of the most popular players in the cinema world. She has a tremendous following, while Agnew, as a young physician, harassed and heckled by the elephant, gives promise of reaching the very peak of cinema achievement.

This bill includes "The Ridin' Comet," a thrilling western.

That Royle Girl

After seeing "That Royle Girl" D. W. Griffith's current film success, at the Rialto theater, it is easy to believe that if ever the screen's mightiest thrills are catalogued, the cyclone-climax in this new cinemasterpiece will lead all the rest. The plot centers around Joan Daisy Royle, who finds in the jazz-mad pleasures surrounding her in Chicago an opportunity to forget the drudgery of her job and the fraud and pretense of her makeshift home, which is persisted over by a genial rascal of a father, too weak to earn an honest living. Carol Dempster, W. C. Fields, James Kirkwood and Harrison Ford are the quartet of featured players who carry off the chief acting honors in the production.

MORE ABOUT LEGION WORK

Pertinent questions and answers for those who want to know about the policies and purposes of the American Legion:

What Does the Legion Do to Help Veterans Find Jobs?

Many departments, county and district organizations and posts maintain service officers or divisions which, among other things, get help veterans to file claims, get hospitalization or medical care and find jobs. Most posts help veterans to get employment, whether they have permanent organizations for this purpose or not.

In the financial depression of 1921-1922, a nation-wide drive was organized through the National Americanization Commission. Permanent employment was found for 500,000 veterans and temporary jobs for 200,000 more. Hotels and lunchrooms were opened by the Legion in many cities. A total of 1,000,000, it is estimated, was spent for relief of jobless veterans.

What Is the Relation Between the Veterans Bureau and the Legion?

The United States Veterans Bureau is a government organization handling matters of hospitalization, compensation, rehabilitation and war risk insurance of World War veterans. It was created largely as a result of Legion efforts, but is no part of the Legion organization. The Legion cooperates very closely with it in matters affecting the disabled.

Is the Legion Militaristic?

The Legion is neither militaristic nor pacifistic. It advocates a military preparedness adequate to the world situation as it is. It works for peace among the nations. It has co-operated constantly with FIDAC (the International Federation) in its work for peace. At its national convention in 1925 it adopted the following program for peace:

Maintenance of adequate forces for internal and external national defense; prompt enactment into law of the principle of the universal draft, assuring equal service for all and special privileges and profits for none, should war be forced on the nation; immediate adherence by the United States to a permanent court of international justice; co-operation by the United States in such activities of the League of Nations as may from time to time be approved by the Government, with maintenance of an official observer at the seat of the League at Geneva; endorsement of the holding of international conferences for disarmament, world security, codification of international law and the like; co-operation with FIDAC in its program; education of mankind in international good will.

The American Legion dance at the Woman's club house in celebration of St. Patrick's Day was one of the most enjoyable of the season. There was a good attendance and the committee in charge was pleased with the success of this benefit for the local post of the Legion.

The Rev. M. D. Kneeland and Art McCurdy, local dairyman, gave a fresh demonstration of the fact that it is impossible for two objects to occupy the same space at the same time, when their autos came together at the corner of Lima and Grand View Wednesday afternoon. Both cars were somewhat damaged but fortunately there was no injury to occupants of the cars.

Road Show Is All Set for Tuesday

"Listen for the Callopie"

The Ford Road Show and mechanical circus will be here next Tuesday at 11:30, says J. Milton Steinberger, local Ford dealer. That is based upon the latest announcement received from Ford headquarters. In case of uncertainty, the arrival of this novel traveling aggregation will be made known in the way of the good old fashioned circus parade by the playing of the callopie which is operated by compressed air.

This Ford road show has been a wonderful attraction wherever shown, according to reports of its progress through other towns. It has drawn great crowds to inspect the great variety of apparatus developed for use in connection with the good little Ford. Passenger cars, trucks and tractors are only the beginning of the show. Labor saving devices for an amazing variety of purposes are included in the exhibits which more than 40 manufacturers have prepared.

As Times Change
In days gone by when transportation was a problem, the demand of rural districts for something new, interesting, entertaining and educational was satisfied by the circus carnival which went from town to town. The show had to be brought to the people. Today transportation facilities are greatly improved and so, too, has the speed of life increased to the point where people cannot spare the time to seek entertainment and education, hence the demand still makes it necessary that the show be brought to them; therefore, these allied interests are carrying the most extensive educational show to the rural districts that has ever been attempted as a traveling unit.

The show carries equipment of interest to every one, and is in purpose highly educational. It depicts the new and old methods of transportation, agriculture, construction and many other features of modern day community development.

Motion Pictures Shown
The show is completely equipped to carry on for an indefinite time. A motion picture car carrying a complete library of comedy and educational films, and two projecting machines, are part of the equipment. Special programs and lectures are being arranged for showing to high school pupils, where there has been a demand for these subjects.

To enliven the night activities, a spectacular electrical display, featuring a 45,000,000 candle-power searchlight capable of making a beam of light that can be seen for 50 miles, and many colored lighting effects, is being operated. A callopie operated by compressed air will further serve to carry out the carnival atmosphere and attract attention to the show. Sufficient energy is created to make this instrument heard for a distance of three miles.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bifield of Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Johnson of Chicago, and Mrs. J. J. Carr of Salem, Mass., were week end guests of Dr. Marie A. Everett, 153 Santa Anita Court. All visited the Wistaria Fete and pronounced it a wonder.

Fake Suicide in Mountains Is Detected

What promised to be a first class mystery, with possibilities of suicide, murder, and various other things in the background, was developed on Sunday, and solved on Wednesday without any tragedy being involved.

Phil Hartman of Orchard Camp reported to Marshal A. M. Udell the finding on Mt. Wilson Trail of a blood stained coat, a bloody razor, and farewell notes. The latter were signed by Fred Knospe and were addressed to his wife at 2574 Foothill boulevard, Lamanda Park. Knospe's auto was found later where he had left it on Alegria street, Sierra Madre.

Marshal Udell notified the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriffs Hanley and Hunter were assigned to the case. They made an appointment to come out Monday but were kept in Los Angeles to assist in the round-up of county jail inmates who took part in the latest escape from the new jail.

First reports were to the effect that Knospe had become deeply involved in debt, was out of work and had probably killed himself in a fit of despondency. When the deputies came out on Wednesday they called at the Knospe home, then visited the scene of the supposed suicide where diligent search was made but without effect. Their suspicions were excited by some circumstances where they found drops of blood on the ground. Being convinced that no tragedy had actually taken place they returned to the Knospe home where close questioning brought an admission that Knospe had returned there after his visit to the mountains and had then left for San Diego.

Following this clue, the officers notified the San Diego police who found Knospe at the address given, arrested him and are said to have secured a confession that he was merely trying to find some way to escape from his financial difficulties. The blood was said to have been procured by an incision on the arm.

Dedication of Hospital On April 10

The formal opening and dedication of the new $2,000,000 U. S. Veterans' hospital, situated at San Fernando, will take place on Saturday, April 10, at 1:30 o'clock, the date being fixed at the Legion commanders' meeting held in Los Angeles.

The program will be in charge of the Los Angeles County Inter-Post Council of the American Legion, and John R. McQuigg of Ohio, with headquarters at Indianapolis, national commander of the Legion, will be principal speaker. F. W. Barton, also of Indianapolis, national adjutant, will also be present and deliver an address. These officials are now on tour of the west and the date for the dedication of the new hospital was arranged to conform to their itinerary.

Leonard Wilson of Burbank, commander of the Los Angeles County Inter-Post Council, will preside at the dedicatory service. There will be several national and state Legion notables present. It is expected there will be a large attendance of outside visitors, friends and relatives of present and prospective inmates of the hospital. Legion representatives of the posts throughout the state will attend.

Assurance is given that the road from San Fernando to the hospital will be in good condition, free from dust and ruts. Volney H. Craig, representing the Kiwanis club, will make temporary repairs so that the trip to the hospital may be negotiated with pleasure.

The chamber of commerce has all along been furnishing transportation for the incoming patients. There are now about 140 patients at the hospital.

F. A. Dutcher of Belle Vue court entertained Miss Alice Watts, Mrs. E. G. Firestone and daughter Armelda, all of Los Angeles, the past week.

Why State's Road Funds Are Scanty

The second and concluding installment of a letter from Secretary C. E. McStay of the Automobile Club of Southern California concerning the highway problems of the state. In the first installment Mr. McStay reviewed the history of the California highway system. This week his conclusions concerning the future program are presented as follows:

A. Roads of statewide importance, i. e., the main trunk lines, inter-state connections and county seat laterals, should be of first consideration, not only to keep faith with the people, but for the future development of the state as a whole. Regardless of disproportionate expenditures necessary to accomplish this and regardless of the source from which the monies are derived, the Automobile Club of Southern California has in the past and now favors the completion at the earliest possible date of such roads, as above described, as a state-wide obligation.

District Benefits

B. All roads now within the state highway system other than the main trunk line, inter-state connections and county seat laterals should be classed as state district roads. Such roads lying within the 45 northern counties to be financed and built by the people living within that district; such roads lying within the 13 southern counties of the state to be financed and built at the expense of the people living therein. No roads to be added to the trunkline, inter-state or county seat (statewide) system without a majority vote of the people cast upon the question of such an addition. No state district roads to be added without a majority vote of the district.

The provision would "take state highways out of politics" by preventing indiscriminate addition of roads to the state highway system through the logrolling and political trading methods heretofore practiced. This plan would also provide the means by which roads of importance lying within each district could be financed and completed in the order of their importance at a far earlier date and with justice and equity to the north and south alike.

Paying for Upkeep

C. The maintenance, reconstruction and widening needs of our state highway system are determined primarily by the volume of traffic, which in turn largely depends upon the number of vehicles in use. It naturally follows that expenditures therefor should be proportionate in the two districts of the state to the registration therein. In other words, present motor vehicle registration warrants the demand that 57.4 per cent of the total funds derived from the motorists for maintenance, reconstruction and widening of state highways be expended in the 13 southern counties of the state, from which that proportion originates. Likewise that 42.6 per cent of these funds, and no lesser amount, be expended in the northern 45 counties from which that amount is derived.

D. By whatever method the financing of state highway construction be provided, such monies should be allocated to specific projects in accordance with engineering estimates, in order to insure the completion of the project. The enactment into law of such a procedure will prevent "vote getting" by the construction of a few miles of road here and there.

Finishing the System

E. To finance the completion of our state highways but two sources of revenue are possible, i. e., to tax the people as a whole or to tax a special class or portion of the people. The first named can be accomplished either through further bond issues or by direct appropriation out of the general revenue of the state. The source of each is the same, the corporations paying the tax necessary to meet such expenditures and in turn transmitting it to the people through the rates charged for their various services.

To place the burden of state highway construction upon the shoulders of a special class such as the motorists, in addition to the maintenance, reconstruction and widening obligation, federal excise and personal property taxes now borne by the motorists, set forth in paragraph nine herein, would not only be unjust but unwise—unjust because the construction of a good road benefits the property served by that road as well as the people using it and the people using it already are committed to permanently maintaining that road in a manner adequate to serve its needs—unwise, because maintenance, reconstruction and widening necessities are constantly increasing and to meet present as well as future traffic demands, the time is not far distant when the user of the road must face increased taxation for that purpose.

Which Is Most Needed?

Let each individual user of the road answer this question: "Is it more important that a new road be built somewhere, here or there, at my expense, or is it more important that the road which I use daily be maintained in a manner to serve my needs, widened to permit uninterrupted traffic and reconstructed when need requires, I to pay for same?"

The Automobile Club of Southern California maintains that new highway construction is a capital investment, to be borne by the people as a whole. For more than twelve years our organization has been committed to the policy of "the user of the road to pay for the maintenance, widening and reconstruction thereof as required after it once has been built at the expense of the people as a whole."

In the matter of financing future state highway construction, our organization recommends the following alternatives:

Paying for New Roads

a. An authorization by the voters of the state for the issuance annually over a period of twelve years bonds in an amount not to exceed $7,500,000 per annum, which with present ratio of federal aid appropriations provide in excess of $10,000,000 annually for new highway construction.

b. Direct appropriation by the state legislature out of the general revenue of the state the sum of $5,000,000 per annum, which with present ratio of federal aid would provide in excess of $7,000,000 per year for new highway construction.

With the adoption of either of the methods above described, 75 per cent of the funds thus derived should be expended upon the state trunk line highways, inter-state connections and county seat laterals until they are completed, the remainder to be allocated to the district state highways in proportion to the tax paid by each district. With the completion of the state trunk highway system, inter-state connection and county seat laterals, funds provided should be allocated to district state highways in proportion to tax paid by each district.

Finis

The writer has endeavored to set forth the problems confronting the people of the state of California and possible remedies that would aid in their solution.

The conditions and recommendations as herein set forth have been the subject of numerous conferences with organizations and individuals in an effort to arrive at a solution, fair alike to the north and south, that would insure equitable, economic and more rapid development of our state highway system, and with a view to presenting the conclusions arrived at to organizations and individuals throughout the state for consideration. We believe that so long as inequity and injustice prevail, either to the north or south, in methods of taxation or the expenditure thereof, just so long will the proper development of our highway system be retarded, the economic loss of which to our state cannot be estimated.

To further seek relief at the hands of a legislature, which maintains, in defiance of the constitution of this state, a representation of 79 members for the 45 northern counties and 41 members for the thirteen southern counties, despite the equality of population between the two sections, is futile.

The Automobile Club of Southern California has waged a long and insistent fight for a just method of taxation for highway purposes and an equitable distribution of expenditure thereof, and this effort will be continued with the utmost vigor.

The issue must therefore be decided by the voters of this state, upon whose shoulders the burden of taxation will fall and who are entitled to receive the benefits of their investment, in accordance with that which they pay.

Respectfully submitted,
C. E. McSTAY,
Field Secretary.

Rev. A. O. Pritchard has been confined to his home with a severe cold part of the week, but is able to be out again.

VAUDEVILLE PRONOUNCED BIG SUCCESS

With a crowd that packed the auditorium at St. Rita's school, the St. Patrick's night vaudeville entertainment was pronounced a huge success. The entire program was given by "imported" talent, provided through the kindness of a friend of the parish, and every number won enthusiastic applause, even the man who made remarks about the kind of car Father Bennet drives. The visitors also brought a splendid orchestra which provided music for dancing after the program closed. The affair was a fitting celebration of the day and netted a substantial sum for the parish.

The machines in question are gum and candy vending contrivances that reward lucky players with merchandise checks.

Constable Pettis states that under these orders it will be the duty of all constables to see that the sheriff's instructions are carried out, and that all slot machines found operating in the district will be promptly confiscated by him. News Taken from the Daily Papers

A headline in the paper says "In their war China won't fight on rainy days." They don't mind getting shot, but they won't get wet.

Imagine a sign as you start to enter China: "RAIN. NO WAR TODAY." If that was the custom in this country, we could prevent all wars by announcing that all the fighting must be done in Portland, Oregon.

Another paper asks, "Where does a Florida Real Estate man go in the summer?" He goes to California to his all-the-year-round home.

A newspaper asks "Why does a President of a concern always talk at the Company's banquets?" It's an incentive to the workers, who say, "If that's all he knows I may be President some day."

Another paper suggests, "The cheapest way to enforce Prohibition is to have everyone that drinks watched." Who is going to do the watching?

An article in a Business Man's magazine inquires, "What business in this country has the largest turnover?" Cucumbers for supper have the largest turnover, with Fords a close second.

The Congressional Record speaking editorially, says, "Bull' Durham is the best Tobacco that ever entered these Stately Halls."

RUMOR

The flying rumors gathered as they rolled; Scarce any tale was sooner heard than told, And all who heard it added something new, And all who heard it made enlargement, too, In every ear it spread, on every tongue it grew.

—Pope,

THE FUTURE OF THE WISTARIA

SOME of these days Sierra Madre people are likely to wake up and find that a valuable community asset has been allowed to slip out of their hands and be lost, so far as its greater possibilities are concerned.

Not so many years ago Sierra Madre had an opportunity to acquire for park purposes one of the loveliest canyons in the whole foothill region. The lower portion of the Little Santa Anita had been occupied as a resort by Carter's Camp for a number of years. The knoll to the east was a favorite spot for short hikes, having few superiors as an easily accessible place from which to see the country.

The canyon and knoll were on the market and could have been bought for a few thousand dollars. Some citizens were far seeing enough to realize the value of a properly developed park in such a setting. Others live so near the mountains they deprecate their value as commonplace things are often undervalued. Other things demanded the expenditure of public resources. Street improvements, the water system and various essentials seemed to require the expenditure of about all the money the public felt could be spared for civic purposes, the canyon and knoll were sold to a subdivider who used a microscope instead of the usual instruments for cutting up the land. Of the results it is rather difficult to speak without showing signs of ill temper, especially when thinking of what might have been.

Now, it should not require any argument to persuade Sierra Madre people that the great wistaria vine is one of the greatest attractions in all Southern California. Whether the home folks realize it or not, the fact is well known to thousands of people from all parts of the world. For several years they have been coming in throngs during the blooming season, and returning in lesser numbers during the rest of the year, to see that vine.

Years ago, if Sierra Madre was mentioned at some remote place, it usually brought the response, "Oh yes, I went there on my way to Mt. Wilson, or to Carter's Camp, or to Lucky Baldwin's ranch." Nowadays, the response is, "Sierra Madre—that's the place where we went to see that wonderful Wistaria Vine."

The future of the Wistaria Vine is something demanding the attention of everybody who believes in making the most of community assets. That the Fennel property has been on the market for some time is well known. To have it pass into private hands which would result in the public being excluded from viewing it would be a calamity.

There are possibilities in devoting it to some commercial purpose, such as a high class dining establishment. That would insure it remaining a public attraction. Conceivably it may pass into private hands where it will remain as freely available for community and public uses as has been the case with the Fennels. But not likely. The only alternative to insure against loss as a community asset is its acquisition by the city or by some organization.

Who will come forward with a practicable plan.

He hath riches sufficient who hath enough to be charitable.—Sir Thomas Browne.

SIERRA MADRE water has always had the reputation of being as palatable as it is pure. It is reassuring to have the monthly reports of the county health department on samples taken from wells, tunnels, reservoirs and mains. These show total absence of bacterial or other contamination. Water is ordinarily considered a good conductor of electricity. But not when it is as pure as Sierra Madre water. This was shown by some experiments of Rudolph Hartman a number of years ago when making a water rheostat for some electrical tests. He found the water was so nearly chemically pure that he had to dissolve some mineral salts in it to secure the necessary conductivity. Now you tell one.

Two people were very prompt to express agreement with last week's editorial on parking in the Sierra Madre business zone. One man did it by telling the editor. The other did it by parking his car all day in front of a neighbor's store instead of in front of his own.

Puente Journal: The American Hairdressers association will meet in national convention next month to wage a battle against the hair-bob, that "convenient and becoming" custom. This is a big and strenuous undertaking when four out of five females are "modernites" and the barber business on the gain. The medical authorities have just been in session in New York City to decry the menace of women who are starving themselves "thin" for fashion. No wonder the grocer complains of his trade in foodstuffs as falling off! But this is one of the ages of extreme fads.

Man never fastened one end of a chain around the neck of his brother, that God's own hand did not fasten the other end around the neck of the oppressor.—Lamar-tine.

A CREED TO PASTE UP AND GO BY

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.

To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think only the best, to work for the best, to expect the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the great achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times, and give every living creature you meet a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.—Exchange.

YE COUNTRY EDITOR

Oh, I wish I was an editor,

I really do, indeed,

It seems to me that editors

Get everything they need.

They get the biggest and the best

Of everything that grows,

They go free into circuses

And other kinds of shows.

The biggest pumpkins, largest beets

And all that kind of stuff

Are blown into the "sanctum"

By an editorial puff.

So, I wish I was an editor,

I really do, indeed,

It seems to me that editors

Get everything they need.

—All the Way from Pike.

So, you wish you was an editor!

You really think you do?

Then listen and we'll "wise" you on

What that would bring to you.

Of fine, big, stuff that grows on land

It would not bring you much,

For seldom does the wind bring in Big pumpkins, beets and such.

'Tis true we get in circuses

But this we have to face:

For tickets worth a buck we give

Two dollars worth of space.

Editors don't get all they need

Without the cash to buy it.

If they tried to live on gifts for puffs

They'd have a darn poor diet!

—R. P. Willis, Record, Grand Meadow.

High Wiring Standard Is Trade Plan

In the interest of promoting a higher standard of electric wiring, a meeting of the electrical contractors of Monrovia and Sierra Madre was held at the Monrovia office of the Southern California Edison company last evening to organize the local forces for launching the Red Seal Wiring Plan.

Among those present were G. I. Farman, representing the Sierra Madre Electric Co.; Claude Veder, electrical contractor of Sierra Madre; Harold N. Jackson of the Jackson Electric Shop, Monrovia; J. E. Donahue, representing the Monrovia Electric Co.; Fred Schwartz, S. A. Cochran, B. S. Seymour and Brooks Fisher of the Edison company. Arcadia contractors will also participate in this movement.

Under the Red Seal Plan of electrical wiring, provision is made for safety, ample capacity and the installation of convenient outlets for the use of the numerous electrical appliances which have become such an important part of daily use throughout the household. This plan is being sponsored by the entire electrical industry and architects throughout the entire country under the auspices of the Society for Electrical Development, and reports from other sections demonstrate this is one of the most important steps taken in connection with the use of electricity. Many of the builders and architects are now embodying the Red Seal specifications in their plans to insure proper wiring in the buildings and homes under their supervision.

While the Red Seal specifications do not in any way conflict with those of the Board of Underwriters and any city ordinances for electric wiring, a further provision is made for cooperation of experts of the Southern California Edison company who will assist in the supervision and inspection of the Red Seal work.

Arrangements are being made for another meeting which will include architects and contractors and electrical inspectors, when it is expected that the Red Seal Movement will become active in Monrovia, Arcadia and Sierra Madre and surrounding communities for the benefit of those who expect to build new homes.

From the Old News Files

Annual meeting of the stockholders of the Sierra Madre Water company resulted in the election of the following directors: J. G. Blumer, N. H. Hosmer, E. W. Camp, J. A. Osgood, J. J. Hart, C. W. Jones, and A. N. Carter. The directors elected J. G. Blumer president, Mr. Hosmer vice president, S. R. Norris secretary, and G. E. Morgan, superintendent.

Officers of the Sierra Madre Board of Trade were elected as follows: President, H. Ivor Thomas; vice president, Charles S. Kersting; secretary, Carlton J. Pegler; treasurer, Charles L. Ferry.

The Sierra Madre Outing club is planning to build a cabin this year in the west fork of the San Gabriel. C. J. Pegler is president of the club; J. J. Graham, committee on supplies; Greer Caskey, committee on building, and Lewis Newcomb, committee on location.

The Sierra Madre Woman's club was organized on March 11 with 53 charter members. Officers were Mrs. J. A. Osgood, president; Mrs. L. C. Torrance and Mrs. C. E. Bentham, vice presidents; Mrs. Minnie Bronson, secretary; Mrs. Ivor Thomas, treasurer; Mmes. George Lettau, W. S. Andrews, C. L. Ferry, Eva Thornberg, C. W. Jones and C. H. Baker, directors. At the organization meeting the principal speaker was Mrs. D. K. Foster of Los Angeles, president of the Friday Morning club. Solos were sung by Mrs. C. L. Ferry and Mrs. H. I. Hawhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Yerxa of Hollywood visited in Sierra Madre this week.

M. Herbert Bridle reports the sale of ten lots in the Valley View tract, formerly known as the Hilton place. Among the purchasers were E. V. Purviss, Geo. K. Bourke, Frederick Tucker, M. J. Howard and Miss Alberta Bley.

The Philanthropy section of the Woman's club held a "Wistaria Tea" at the Fennel home on Carter avenue. Mrs. M. D. Welsch and Mrs. L. E. Steinberger were the hostesses.

Mrs. F. J. Hart entertained the Modern Priscillas at her home at the Villa. Miss Rowena Blincoe of Los Angeles gave a number of readings.

The published statement of the First National bank showed total resources of $226,483.

'Tisn't So!

Claremont people thought they had a thunder storm something like the one which visited Sierra Madre a few weeks ago. But the Claremont Courier disposes of it thus:

Did the lightning hit your front yard? If not, why not? Everybody else in Claremont saw the bolt light on his roof-tree and peel the bark off.

The memorable thunderclap of Sunday afternoon was one of the improbable things that exist only in books. It simply couldn't have been. It doesn't thunder in California, you know.

And if all the inhabitants of Pilgrim Place say they heard the crashing roar of a thunderbolt, don't believe them. That is just another sign of the fallibility of human judgment even when supported by the most upright natures.

We all came to California to get away from the storms back east; and it simply doesn't storm in California.

That's that.

Safety Sense

MAKE SAFE DRIVING A HABIT BY FOLLOWING THESE SIMPLE RULES

No. 2—Signaling

Before giving any signal look first. Be sure the movement can be safely made—then signal. Make all signals with the full arm extended, palm open. Turning signals must be given continuously during the last 50 feet traveled before beginning the turn. All signals should be given so as to be of use to other users of the highway. Play fair with the other drivers. After giving a signal don't change your mind. Do not disregard your own signal. Proceed as your signal indicates.

If it becomes necessary to place car in the center line of traffic, unless intending to turn to the left or to make a complete turn to the left at the next intersection, pull car over as near as possible to the right hand side of the road, as soon as possible. If another car is on the right and there is room, then pass that car, or drop in the rear without delay. In passing that car give the driver ample warning of the intention. As we have no business in the center of the street under other circumstances, drive in a manner that allows faster moving vehicles to pass on the left. No matter where driving, always see that street cars are free to proceed without delay. Remember that the car riders have just as much right to get to the place they are going as the auto drivers have. In other words use good old-fashioned common sense in driving manners.

The Modern Priscillas will meet with Mrs. W. J. Miller, 67 West Highland, on Thursday, March 25.

Womans Club

Mrs. Fletcher H. White, Press Cor.

The next regular meeting of the Sierra Madre Woman's club will be held March 24. The program will feature Mrs. Randolph Wood, soprano, and Mrs. J. N. Hawks, contralto, with Oscar Rasbach, accompanist, and Mrs. Nina Kellogg Norris, whistling. This should be an afternoon of happy retrospect after the strenuous days of the Fete.

Mrs. May H. Roberts has resigned the chairmanship of the department of Regional Planning. The work will be continued by Mrs. Caulkin, vice chairman. The next meeting of the section will be Thursday, April 1, at the club house, 2:30 p. m. A full attendance is urged.

The 25th annual convention of Los Angeles district will be held at Pasadena, Shakespeare club house, April 6, 7 and 8. Seats reserved for delegates only. All club women are invited and urged to attend all sessions. Husbands are invited, especially to evening meetings. Reservations must be made by April 1. Convention opens on the 6th at 1:15; evening, 7:30 to 8; reception; 8:15 musical program by chorus of the Shakespeare club. An address on International Relations.

April 7, 4 to 6 p. m., garden party in Busch Gardens; 8:15 the play, "Hassan," at the playhouse. Tickets may be had from Miss Klemme.

April 8, annual federation banquet will be held at Huntington hotel at 7 o'clock. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Frederick Gillmor, 553 E. California street, Pasadena.

For these events, reservations may be made by club delegates, club members or friends.

It is still a little early to give a full accounting of the great things done by the club and its friends during the Wistaria Fete. It is probably not too much to say that the present season has seen the greatest success in the history of this "institution." The financial reckoning isn't finished yet for several days, but the "footing up" in consideration for others, loyalty, courtesy to associates, and a whole-hearted cooperation, goes on right through every day. Surely no similar organization could boast a greater balance. And this has been made possible by Sierra Madre citizenship's cooperation with the Woman's club.

A committee composed of Miss Harriet Grant, Mrs. George F. Ferris and Mrs. Emil Sturmlath are preparing a revision of the by-laws which will be submitted for reading at the next regular meeting, March 24, same to be voted upon April 14.

VISITORS TO PUT ON WORK FOR MASONS

Officers and members of Vermont Square Lodge of Los Angeles will be guests of Sierra Madre Tuesday night. The degree of Master Mason will be conferred by the visitors and there will be light refreshments after labor, served by the entertainment committee. H. E. Allen, master

FRESH BREAD

To the Editor:

I notice in one of the papers that the question of how to dispose of the day old bread is causing the bakers to knot their foreheads in thought, and that the chief of the state division of weights and measures has come to their rescue. He believes that an advertising campaign stressing the fact that day old bread is more healthful than that fresh from the oven will solve the problem. If the chief really knows that day old bread is more healthful than that fresh from the oven, I think he would confer a greater favor upon the public by telling them how they came by the fact that day old bread is more healthful than that fresh from the oven than by organizing a campaign to try and induce the public to eat that which the bakers are unable to dispose of in any other way, at a profit. For evermore, give us fresh bread. Yours sincerely,

HENRY SCHASER.

WISTARIA, CLUB AND SCHOOL
Dear Sierra Madre News.

In view of the great success attending the Wistaria Fete given under the auspices of the Sierra Madre Woman's club please allow one of the old residents to say a word in its favor.

Over 1100 autos were there last Sunday, some time before the closing hour, and I understand that over 5,000 persons were in attendance there.

While the financial success is assured at this Wistaria Fete there is one other fact that should not be lost sight of and it is this.

In all the long existence of Sierra Madre both as a ranch town and finally as a city, no such success like this as an advertisement of the beauty and health giving properties of our beloved city has been shown. Besides this success as an advertisement there is another fact too evident to be ignored, and it is this:

The Sierra Madre Woman's club has been a wonderfully good holding ground for the many people who have anchored their little families here because of the social attractions and friendships gained through its influence.

Let us not forget another fact, although unrelated to the foregoing. On the 26th of this month an election of our school board is to be held. Our present board has as its members two successful men in business and a lady of wide experience in school matters, and our city is surely favored in having a board of such good material. They give their time and advice without reward except that which comes to them through the good will of our grateful citizens. Let us give them a good vote and thus show our appreciation.

—J. A. OSGOOD.

PROBLEMS OF SCHOOL GIVEN
MUCH THOUGHT

Attendance at Wednesday's P. T. A. meeting was very small owing to an erroneous idea spread broadcast that it was postponed, in spite of the fact that 450 notices were sent out. However, it was one of the most successful meetings held this year because of the very thorough general discussion of local problems and solutions of several of them.

It was voted to instruct the secretary to write a letter of appreciation and thanks to O. A. Smith of the Pacific Electric traffic department for the improved service for high school students, especially the through car in the afternoons which benefits particularly the John Muir students.

Mrs. Butts was appointed chairman of a committee of several members interested in dietetics to plan weekly menus for the assistance of the cafeteria committee. A pleasant hour was spent with tea at the close of the meeting.

The menu for next week is as follows:

Monday, creamed eggs on toast; pineapple tapioca.

Tuesday, soup; coddled apples.

Wednesday, macaroni and cheese; vegetable salad.

Thursday, beef a la mode; ice cream.

Friday, vegetable soup; chocolate blanc mange.

MRS. L. E. MYERS
LAID TO REST

Mrs. Mayme Anna Myers, wife of Louis E. Meyers of 503 Manzanita avenue, passed away last Friday at the hospital following an operation which had been resorted in a last effort to save her life. She had been a sufferer from asthma for several years but had not been seriously ill until the preceding Sunday, when she was taken with the acute attack which terminated fatally.

Mrs. Myers was born in Nebraska City, Nebraska, 51 years ago and spent most of her early life in Emporia, Kansas. The family came to California 25 years ago and had occupied their present home the past six years. Here she had lived quietly but the home was a mecca for a host of friends who came from far and near to visit her as one greatly beloved for her helpfulness. In addition to her husband, Mrs. Myers leaves a son, Paul M. Myers, of Santa Barbara, and her aged mother, Mrs. Sadie C. Hoagland, who had resided with the family for years.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday by Dr. Elwood P. Lyon. The pall bearers were associates of Mr. Myers in the sales department of the H. J. Heinz company, and Mr. Griffith, a member of the Heinz staff, sang two solos. Interment took place at Mountain View cemetery.

LEG IS BROKEN
WHILE AT PLAY

John Ashmore, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Ashmore, 477 North Baldwin, was the victim of an unfortunate accident on Saturday when he sustained a fracture of both bones of the left leg just above the ankle. While playing with other children in the yard he fell in some manner and was run over by a bicycle. He was taken to the Sierra Madre hospital by Dr. Gilbert Bovard for an X-ray which showed a clean break, with no displacement of the bones. The little chap is reported to be progressing satisfactorily.

Eggs---8¢ per dozen

SUCH would be the story if their price had followed that of electricity since 1895. But eggs are higher now. Almost everything is higher. The average for all commodities is 65% higher than before the war, while electricity is lower.

America's greatest brains have worked on electrical problems. New machines, new methods, new ideas have been perfected under our system of customer ownership.

Electric motors in factories, electric pumps on the farms, washing machines in the homes, electric cars everywhere—These are some of the benefits resulting from the vision and hard work of the electrical pioneers.

And yet the cost is lower.

Think of this the next time you see an egg.
